

Name _____

Create a Character Outline

Gender: Female

Age: 48

Occupation/Student: Social Activist and NGO Founder

Family(immediate—importance in his life?): Kavita's family struggles to understand her strong commitment to social causes, leading to tension in her relationship with her family.

Kavita's main focus is keeping up the image of a committed social activist to hold onto her influence in the community, even as she struggles with her own moral dilemmas.

Name (think about this): Kavita Grover

A Secret he holds that no one knows: Kavita ,despite her prominent role as an activist, has been utilizing her NGO to channel funds for personal gain, siphoning a portion of the money to fund her luxurious lifestyle.

Biggest Fear: Her secret actions being exposed to the society, leading to the loss of respect she had earned within the community due to her good deeds.

Physical Features: Medium height with convincing eyes, long wavy black hair and an air of confidence in her attitude.

Worst Memory: Seeing corruption within the system during her early activism days which led her to adopt morally questionable tactics herself.

Best memory: She organized a protest that armtwisted the government to make new policies helping marginalized groups, strengthening her belief in her activism's effectiveness.

Desire or earthly want, dream or ambition: She wants to create a long lasting impact on the society by genuinely helping the underprivileged and needy.

What does this character need to learn in life?

She needs to be more ethical in her conduct while also being an assest for society.

If this character could do anything in the world and get away with it, what would it be?

Kavita would redirect all misappropriated funds back into the NGO and ensure they are used for the betterment of the causes she advocates for.

Character Traits:

1. Ambitious
2. Charismatic
3. Idealistic
4. Manipulative
5. Conflicted
6. Empathetic

If your character died, what is something that would be mentioned in his/her obituary?

"Kavita Sharma, a dedicated social activist, passed away, leaving behind a legacy of fervent advocacy for the marginalized. Her work brought positive change, although controversies surrounded her methods."

Biggest character flaw?

Kavita's moral ambiguity, using noble causes to justify her unethical actions for personal gain.

Money, Notoriety, Physical Attractiveness – which is most important? To Kavita, the most important thing is gaining power and influence through her activism, even if she has to break her ethical standards for her own gain.